To use it in Final Cut Pro X, open the zip that you've downloaded and extract the files into a folder.

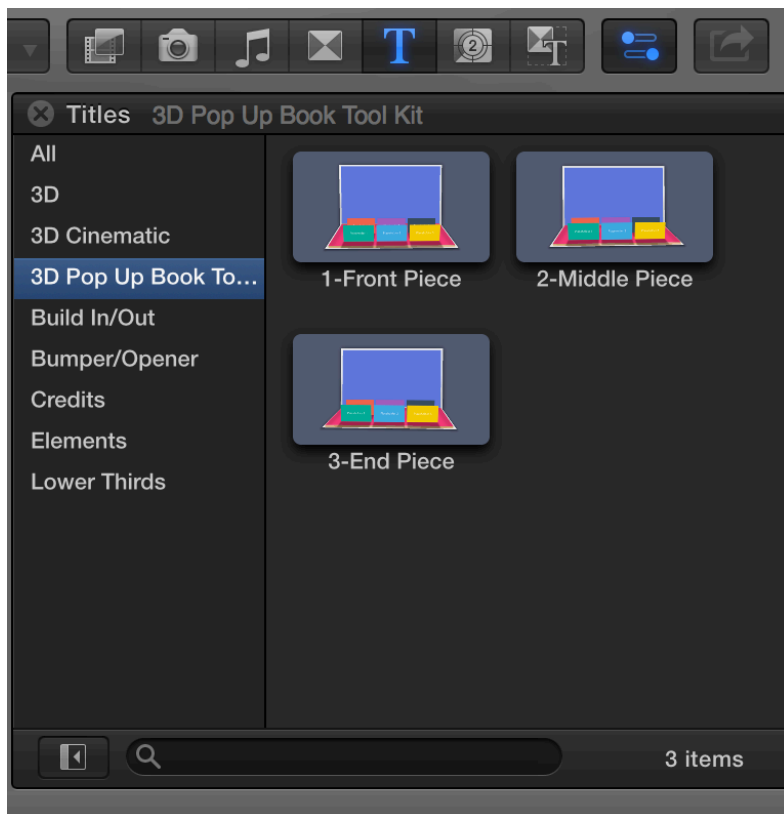

Copy “Motion Templates” to Home > Movies.

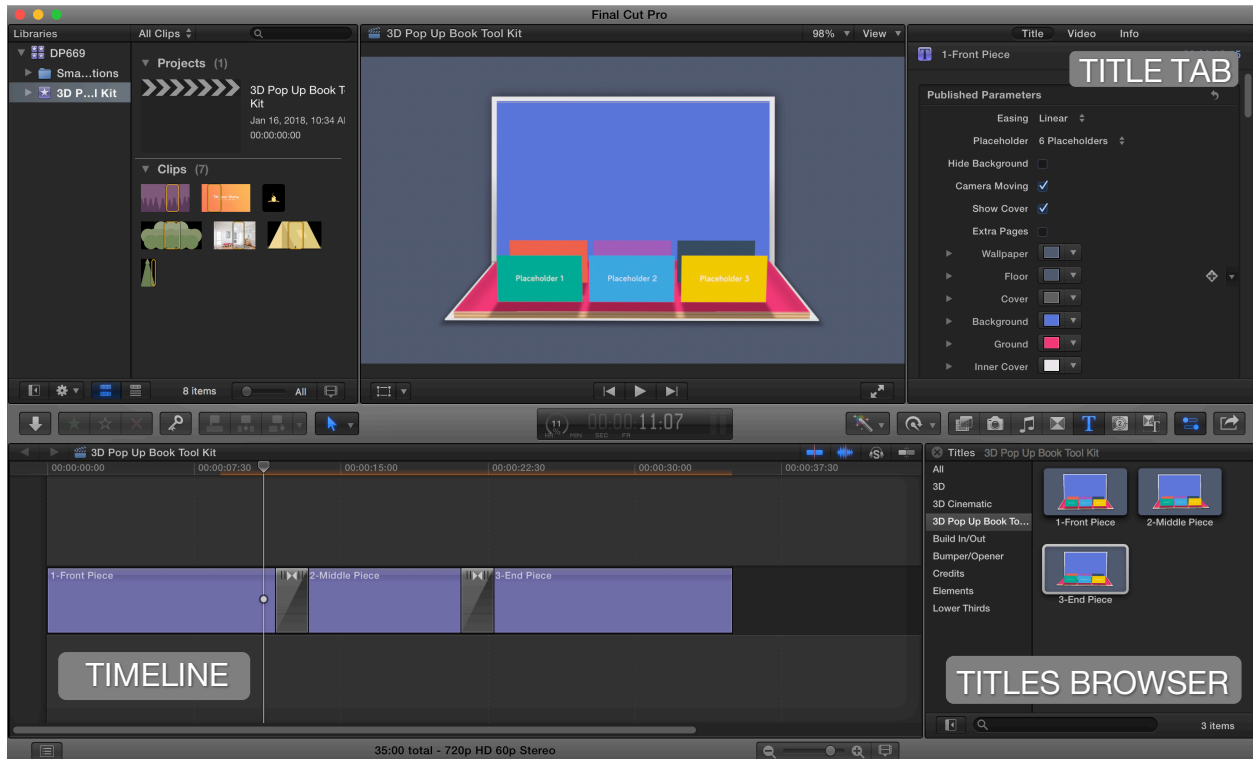

Make sure you choose Merge instead of Replace.

Now you can use the template directly in Final Cut Pro X and Apple Motion.

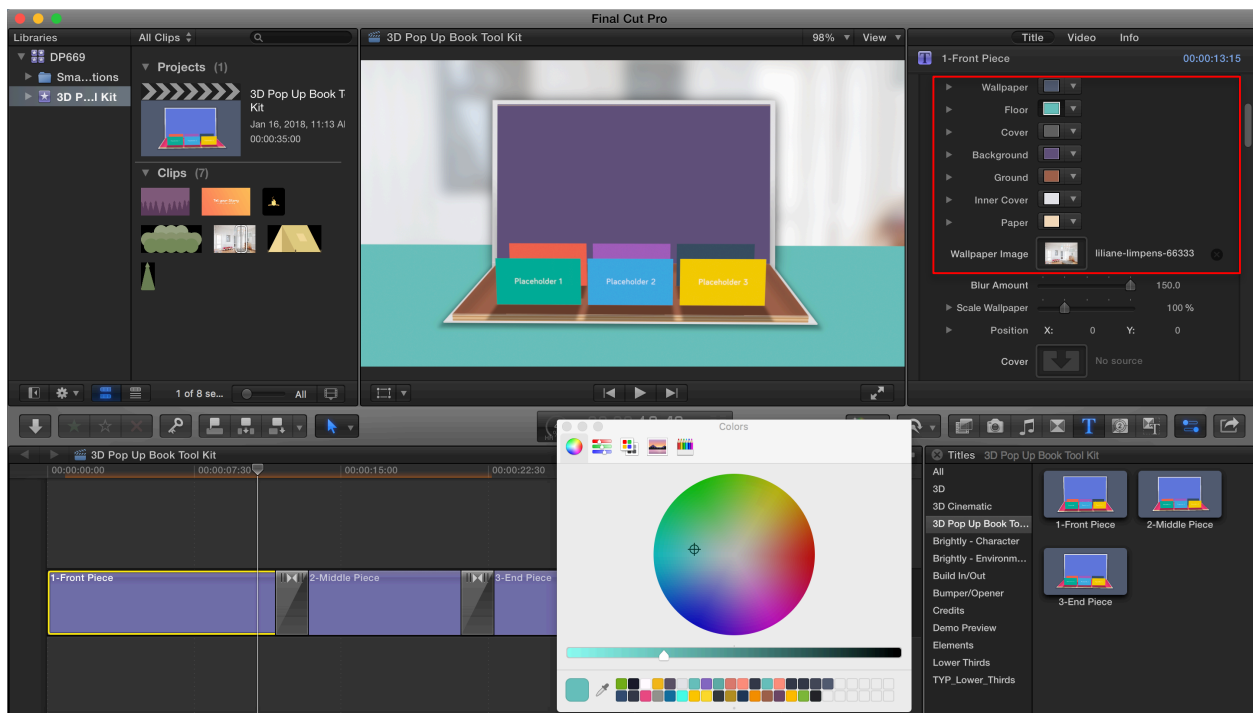

Drag the elements (Front Piece, Middle Piece, and End Piece) from the Titles Browser into the Timeline, then edit/control them through the Title Tab

Change colors and Backgrounds

Select an item on your timeline, it will show the color controls on the Title Tab.

Simply click the color and change it to any other color. Replace the background with an image by clicking on the according icon next to “Wallpaper Image”, then choose your image from the library.

Change Easings

Choose one of 6 different easing animation by clicking the dropdown menu on the Title Tab.

Adding your images or videos

First import images/videos into your library. Then change each placeholder on Title Tab by clicking on the according icon next to “Placeholder x”. Note that videos with an alpha-channel must be using a supporting compression format that allows for transparency.
